Fiber Optic Cable Line Location

Overview

Explore the physical backbone of the internet with our interactive map of undersea fiber optic cables, peering exchange points, and more. Fiber optic cables are critical components of modern communication infrastructure, often buried underground for protection and durability. They are preferred over traditional copper cables due to their higher bandwidth and faster speeds. It is often necessary to locate buried optical fiber cable to prevent dig-ups during construction, to access fibers for termination, to effect repairs, or for other reasons.

Locating Buried Cable

The intensity of the magnetic field is lower further away from the cable. Consequently, cables become harder to locate the more deeply they are buried. The locator also measures the

How To Find Buried Fiber Optic Cable?
