WANA (Aug 09) - The CEO of the Telecommunication Company of Iran (TCI) has announced the launch of a national fiber optic mega project that will replace all copper cables in the country within five years, providing high-speed connections to 27 million subscribers. In the wake of the US-Israeli war of aggression against Iran and the subsequent maritime banditry and piracy, the Islamic Republic is reportedly moving to assert its long-dormant sovereign rights over the submarine internet cables that traverse the waters of the Strait of Hormuz. If construction ever resumes in the Persian Gulf, tech companies will have a new headache to deal with: Unexploded missiles and mines.
