Israel communication fiber optic cable

Overview

The Ministry of Communications is preparing for the gradual shutdown of outdated copper and cable networks, which have so far been used for telephony and television services by Bezeq and HOT, as the country moves toward full adoption of fiber-optic networks by the end of 2030. For the first time, homes in the City of the Patriarchs are connected to broad band Internet. Ceragon provides advanced network rollout services that enhance deployment efficiency for telecom operators. Their IP-50E solution offers a cost-effective, easy-to-deploy alternative to traditional fiber optic cables, delivering "fiber-like" gigabit connectivity, particularly useful in low-density. Telecommunication Infrastructure Solutions were supplied in several fields of the industry. How does 6W market outlook report help businesses in making decisions?
