Photonic Fiber Optic Cable

Overview

Fiber optic cable uses strands of optical fiber to transmit information through light signals. An optical fiber cable (or fiber-optic cable) is a flexible cable which contains one or multiple optical fibers. Linden Photonics designs and manufactures fiber optic cable solutions for applications where standard commercial cables may not provide the required strength, durability, size, flexibility, or environmental protection. Looking for an unusual or hard-to-find cable type?

Contact us, and let us help! Our innovative design of FlexiRay® High Power laser cables, IR-fiber coupled detectors, IR-imaging bundles and various fiber sub-systems provides the optimum solution for specific customer requirements.

Photonic-crystal fiber (PCF) is a class of optical fiber based on the properties of photonic crystals. It was first explored in 1996 at University of Bath, UK. Because of its ability to confine light in hollow cores or with confinement characteristics not possible in conventional optical fiber, PCF is now finding applications in fiber-optic communications, fiber lasers, nonlinear devices, high-power transmission, highly sensitive gas sensors
