Why did the power trip at the front desk

Overview

A power trip occurs when an electrical circuit shuts down all of a sudden, often due to a safety mechanism in the circuit breaker or residual current device (RCD). This mechanism is designed to prevent electrical hazards like overloads, short circuits, or electrocution. If you've ever wondered, "why does my power keep tripping?"

" or noticed your circuit breaker keeps tripping, the cause could be anything from an overloaded circuit to a hidden wiring fault.
